The OHCOW Booth

Is your organization having a health and safety seminar or event? Are you interested in learning or sharing information regarding physical and environmental workplace exposures? BUT, your budget is limited...

The Occupational Health Clinics for Ontario Workers Inc (OHCOW) – Sudbury can help. At no cost to you, OHCOW has a booth (pictured) that can be set up at most functions. With the booth, OHCOW displays a number of fact sheets based on a number of subjects including office ergonomics, back injuries, carpal tunnel syndrome, epicondylitis (tennis elbow), indoor air quality, asbestos, silica and mercury exposures, heat stress, noise and much, much more.

This service is available to any workplace in Northern Ontario. An OHCOW representative can also be present to answer questions regarding any of OHCOW's five services (medical diagnostic review, group services (on-site visits), inquires, outreach and education and research) or to answer questions about specific diseases and disorders.

Where has the booth been used lately?

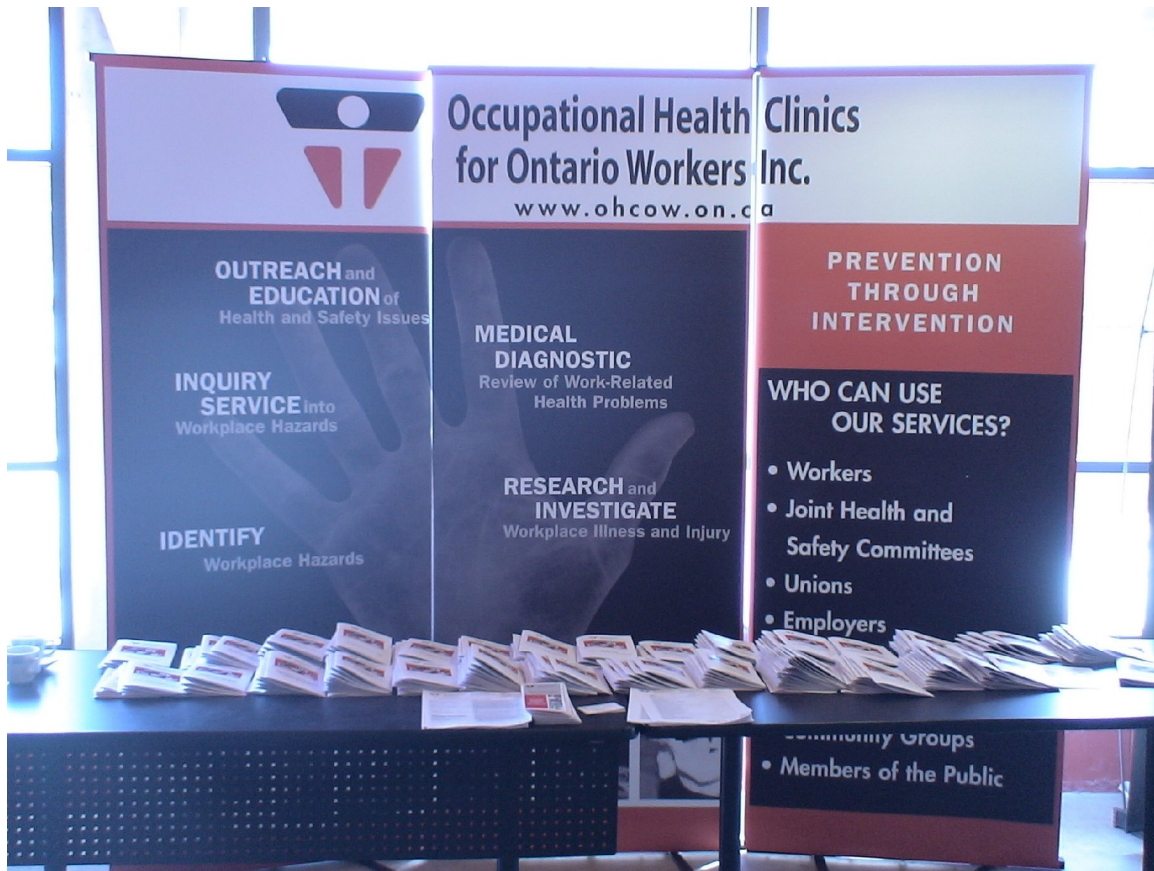

The OHCOW booth has been used at many conferences and health and safety seminars including Repetitive Strain Injury (RSI) Awareness Day, an international union conference, and a health care sector conference. At each of these conferences, hundreds of fact sheets were handed out to a wide range of delegates including workers, managers, doctors, health and safety representatives, and employers.

If you are interested in having this service, please contact OHCOW with any questions at:
